Best Practices and lessons learned from HEAVENN

- A long project will encounter changes always have a plan B prepared.
- Building a strong consortium with a shared responsibility helps to manage and avoid risks.
- A good working connection and understanding with your project officer and the Clean Hydrogen JU will help you adjust your plan to meet the current reality.
- The current H2 economy is in an unstable place but there remains room for innovation and pilots.
- Hydrogen remains a crucial part of a healthy energy landscape investing now will bring us a greener stronger future.

Thank you for your attention!
